

MAIN STREET

By Stanley Bavier

THE STRANGER
By Edgar A. Guest

There passed a man along the street
I thought that never I should meet
So poor his clothes appeared;
So far aloof he seemed from me
I thought it safe to let him see
My scorn and so I sneered.

He asked of me the time of day
I looked at him and turned away
And never answer made.
Thought I, why should I condescend
To such a man to play the friend?
He's of a lower grade.

That night invited out to dine
With influential friends of mine
Across the table gay
There sat the self-same man, who said:
(And oh my cheeks went flaming red)
"I think we met today!"

"We'd had a rather nasty flood.
I was besmeared with grime and mud
And ill to see, I'll vow."
And then he smiled and whispered low:
"I wonder if by chance you know What time it is right now?"

It has been my privilege and pleasure
To meet many people. I've traveled Extensively for many years. For instance I've talked with bankers, prize-fighters, ministers, bootblacks,
waiters, policemen, convicts, knights of the road, fishermen, railroad presidents and about every type imaginable.

I've sat on the piers at Key West, Florida and talked with the fishermen who go out on the reefs each day and catch fish; I've sat around the camp fire at night up in Maine and heard the guides tell weird stories of their experiences up in the wilds of that region; I've talked with the cowboys and ranchers of Wyoming, New Mexico and Arizona and heard them philosophize on life. I've talked with the darkies and colored women along the Mississippi River and up thru Georgia and Carolina, and along the Gulf of Mexico and heard their version of life. I've mingled with the dockmen along the water front of New York and received an insight into their lives; I've talked with the high powered politicians in Washington—our National capital, and sat in the Senate chamber and House of Representatives and listened to political oratory; I've talked with the industrial executives of New York and Boston and heard their side of the story; I've sat in the lobby of many of the exclusive hotels throughout the nation and chatted with fellow guests; I've enjoyed conversation with fellow passengers on Pullman trains and steamships; I've talked with police officers, and I've visited large state prisons and talked with convicts; I've sipped lemonade under palm trees in the tropics and listened to sugar planters tell of their trials and troubles and loneliness; I've exchanged repartee with society debs at smart social affairs; I've sat for hours and listened to sea captains spin yarns of their experiences;
and I've attended religious services of every imaginable creed.

And what has been the result of all this experience? Just this, that I've learned not to pass judgment on a stranger too rashly. In fact I've been so strangely moved so many times by hearing a stranger talk, and I've had my judgment shattered so many times, that I've reached the point where I'm no longer surprised at anything. I've met demure men and women, devoid of all impressive traits if character, who have turned out to be celebrities,
and I've met people whom one would ordinarily classify of high importance, turn out to be imprudent impostors.

And confidentially, I've learned something else; that if you're really receptive and sincere, you can learn a little about life from everyone you come in contact with. And many times you'll pick up a few choice
"nuggets" where you least expect to find them.

The sudden cold snap, with snow
squalls on Monday and Tuesday, brought out the overcoats in a hurry,
and made the warmth of stoves and heaters feel good. It was zero at 6:00 A. M. Monday.

YUBA PASS MAN INVENTS A NEW SNOW VEHICLE

Known As The "California
Snow Goose." Will Revolutionize
Travel and Transportation In Snow

Special to the Truckee Republican
By M. T. AYRES

DOWNEVILLE, Cal., April 20—
A new invention by a Sierra County man is to be called the "California Snow Goose." E. O. Carvin of Yuba Pass is the inventor, and the "snow goose" is a vehicle designed primarily to travel on top of the snow.

It is believed by the inventor that the "snow goose" will revolutionize travel and transportation in the snow sections in the winter time.

As necessity is said to be the mother of invention, so it proved in this case, for with Yuba Pass blocked with snow and mail coming through intermittently and under the greatest of difficulties, Mr. Carvin, who lives alone on his mining property in Yuba Pass and who was in a position to see the great need of better transportation facilities over the summit, started his inventive genius to work. Being an inventor of considerable note, it was not long before he had evolved ideas which he proceeded to work out in a practical manner.

The result of much theorizing, planning and experimenting during the long winter evenings in his lonely abode high up in the Sierra pass was a vehicle propelled by series of grousers or paddles in front, which pull rather than push.
A broad flat bottom prevents the vehicle sinking in soft snow, and it is so constructed as to make it practically impossible for it to tip over under normal conditions. It will have a maximum speed of 20 miles and trails and roads will not be necessary for the "snow goose."
To follow. The depth of the snow or its firmness will make no difference in the operation of the new vehicle, which can be propelled as readily on bare ground as on the snow. Where a tractor would sink out of sight in a snowdrift and become helpless, the "snow goose" would gracefully climb over the top and proceed on its way. Steep banks will be climbed as readily as they will be descended.

If the new vehicle will do the things that its inventor claims for it, and which seem wholly reasonable and logical after viewing the plans and blue prints, it will revolutionize travel and transportation in the snow countries all over the world.
For instance, when Alleghany and Forest were isolated by deep snows during the past winter and even mail schedules were seriously disrupted, had the "snow goose" been available
a ton or more of supplies and mail could have been taken to those towns without undue delay, regardless of the severity of the storm or how high the snow piled up. So long as the operator could keep his bearings he could proceed on his journey.

Not least important in considering the carrying of mail and maintaining of schedules is the making practicable of a winter mail route between Downeville and Forest and Alleghany.
Where it now requires two days for mail to go to Alleghany, traversing two counties in order to reach a point 19 miles distant by direct road, it could be transported by the "snow goose" in a few hours and the summer schedule maintained throughout the year.

The new vehicle also would make it possible to maintain a daily mail schedule through Yuba Pass all year and thus the abandoning of that route, now strongly being considered by the postal authorities, would not be necessary, for the expense would be scarcely, if any, greater.

JOHN MAZZA, OLD PIONEER PASSES AWAY

Owned and Operated the Roma Hotel for Many Years. Came to Truckee in 1889.

Death claimed another one of Truckee's old pioneers at 9:30 A.
M. last Tuesday when John Mazza passed away.

Mr. Mazza was born in Tyrol,
Swiss-Italian frontier, on March 18, 1851. He came to the United States in 1884 and settled in Truckee in 1889.

His first business venture here was in the wood contracting business.
He later bought the old Roma Hotel and operated it for many years. He also owned and operated the "First and Last Chance" Saloon.
When the Volstead Act went into effect, Mr. Mazza accepted a position as watchman at Hobart Mills. Since 1926 he has been associated with William Englehart Sr. at the Truckee Soda Works.

Mr. Mazza is survived by his wife, Laura Mazza, and three sets children, William Englehart Sr., Mrs.
Golda Dyer of Roseville, and Mrs.
Olga Frazier of Oakland, Calif. Also one niece, Miss Mamie Mazza of Grass Valley.

Mr. Mazza has been a member of Summit Lodge No. 54, Knights of Pythias for many years.

Mr. Mazza had a most friendly and amiable personality, and he was held in the highest esteem by his fellow townspeople. A man who was never known to say anything against anybody, but who always had a friendly smile for everybody. His passing brings keen regret to his fellow citizens.

Funeral services were conducted by the Knights of Pythias at 9:30
A. M. this morning in Odd Fellows Hall, after which the body was taken to the local Catholic Church where Rev. P. J. Moran held mass at 10:00 A. M.

Burial was in the local Odd Fellows cemetery.

TWO KILLED AND FOUR ARE INJURED ON THE HIGHWAY

Three Automobile Accidents
On Easter Keep Doctor
Police, Undertaker Busy

Two men were instantly killed and three men and a woman was injured on the Victory Highway last Sunday afternoon, as the result of three automobile accidents which all happened between four and five o'clock.

The first accident occurred at 4:30 when a truck with Nevada registration No. 54 and driven by Walter T. Hyman of 1842 C Street, Sparks, Nevada, failed to make the curve on the Victory Highway, five miles east of town, near the San Francisco Fly Casting Club, and left the road and crashed into the rocks. E. C. Litchenberg, age 50 and employee of the Nevada Ware house and Storage Co. was instantly killed when his skull was fractured.
His companions, Walter T. Hyman and Ivan Tuko, were slightly injured, and able to return to Reno. The truck was badly wrecked.

The second accident occurred fifteen minutes later when a car driven by Byron Greenfield, an employee of the Auburn, California post office, skidded on loose gravel on the Victory Highway near Donner
Lake and crashed into a tree.
Greenfield was instantly killed. His companion, Barney Ornaas, a tailor employed by Dave Gordon, in Auburn, received minor injuries.

The third accident occurred on the Victory Highway west of the State Highway Patrol Station, when a Plymouth roadster left the highway and crashed into the rocks, injuring
Mrs. J. L. Norman of 2327
Prince Street, Berkeley, Calif. Her husband, J. L. Norman escaped without an injury. The bodies of Litchenberg and Greenfield were removed to the Ocker Undertaking Rooms until a Coroner's Inquest was held, and permission granted to an undertaker in Auburn and Reno to take the bodies away.

State police investigated all three accidents.

Nevada County Will Be Called To Recruit Its Quota of Men for Federal Reforestation Camps

Men Must Be Citizens of the United States Between the Ages of 18 and 25 and Unmarried, But Must Have Dependents to Whom They Are Willing To Allot Part of Their Earnings

State's Envoy

As official "Miss California," Marjorie Casey of Sacramento will soon leave for the world's fair to publicize her native state. She won the title at the state fair last fall by scoring almost perfect on general knowledge of California.

Nevada county will soon be called upon to recruit its quota of the 11,000 men allotted to California for admission to "Emergency Conservation camps" under President Roosevelt's national reforestation program.

Just what the county's share of the total allotment will be must await the return of R. C. Branton, state emergency relief administrator,
who is now in Washington, D. C.

In a message to Governor Rolph, Branton said: "The men must be citizens of the United States between the ages of 18 and 25 and unmarried.
But they must have dependents to whom they would be willing to allot part of their earnings."

"This quota will not be sufficient to grant this opportunity to all Californians in this age group who are eligible. The selection, therefore, must be made from those already known to us as eligible and who will benefit most from this exceptional opportunity. County relief agencies generally will aid in making the selections."

Construction of roads and trails in the public domain and government reservations is expected to comprise the major part of the work in California.
Forest service officials believe that actual reforestation work or tree planting could not be started quickly in this state because there is only a small supply of young trees available and it would take nearly 3 years to grow a new crop at the nursery near Susanville.

Each camp would be limited to 200 men, who would enlist in the "conservation corps" for periods of one year. They would live under semi-military discipline, but would not be required to carry arms. It is believed they will receive $30 a month in wages.

Reduction of fire hazards on areas of great fire danger, improvement of timber stands by thinning, construction of fire breaks, trails, look-out stations, etc., and eradication of the pine beetle, deadly enemy of California pine timber, are among other projects planned for the camps in this state.

S. P. CLOSES UP OLD TAHOE ROAD WITHOUT WARNING

Road Has Been In Use Since 1850, Before Southern Pacific Railroad Was Built

Local townspeople were amazed last Thursday, when the Southern Pacific Company erected fences on each side of the subway entrance of the old road between Truckee and the Lake Tahoe Region without giving any warning to the town.

The road has been in use since back in 1850, before the Southern Pacific Company constructed the railroad thru this region.

By closing up this county road,
the entrance to the Truckee baseball park has been closed, as well as the site of the proposed fish rearing pond on the Truckee River which the Truckee Republican has been working for with the California Fish and Game Commission for quite some time.

The closing of this county road also makes it impossible now for cattle and sheepmen to get their livestock back and forth from Truckee to the Lake Tahoe Region without using the Victory Highway, which is more or less congested during the summer months.

The unfortunate part of this accident

LIONS CLUB GIVES DR. R. O. SCHOFIELD FAREWELL PARTY

Members Present Him With An Onyx Base Pen Holder
and Pen As Parting Gift

Dr. Richard O. Schofield, vice-president of the Truckee Lions Club was tendered a farewell party by the Lions Club last Sunday evening in the Wyethia Clubhouse.

About fifty people—consisting of members of the club and their friends and relatives gathered for the occasion. Bridge was played in the early part of the evening, and Mrs. Vera Kaer won first prize in the auction bridge contest. Catherine Rossarini won first prize in contract bridge.

A delightful buffet lunch was served later on in the evening by members of the Wyethia Club.

Miss Olga Vernazzi and Marjorie Fay sang several songs, accompanied at the piano by Catherine Rossarini.

Dr. J. H. Bernard, Rev. P. J. Moran and Frank Gaiennie gave short talks on the high place of esteem which Dr. Schofield has held in the community, and the regret of the community to see him leave.

Dr. Schofield was presented an onyx base desk penholder and pen by members of the Lions Club as a slight expression of their best wishes to him in his recent appointment as chief medical officer at the new $100,000 hospital at Boulder City, Nevada, where the new Hoover Dam is under construction.

'JUDY' PASSES ON TO DOG HEAVEN

"Judy," the large St. Bernard dog owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. Edmunds, and the best known dog in the community, was found dead in the Southern Pacific stockyard last Tuesday morning.

"Judy" was especially fond of children, and she was a great pal to both Lovey and Elsie Edmunds, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. Edmunds.

OUR CONSTITUTION

Those who are familiar with the Constitution of the United States and Constitutional Law could not fail to be more or less amused at the uncomplimentary remarks recently made by George Bernard Shaw in New York a few days ago, in regard to the Constitution. Many men, with much higher intellectual capacity than Shaw, have stated that the Constitution of the United States is one of the most efficient and effective instruments of government ever written.

In Great Britain, there is no separate body of constitutional law, for it is made up of Parliamentary statutes, court decisions, and is a part of, and in no way above, the ordinary law of the land. The courts, by supporting and declaring constitutional custom, may incorporate it into the constitutional law. Much of British constitutional practice is customary rather than statutory, and has no legal sanction behind it. In the United States, the entire body of constitutional law includes the Constitution of the United States, the interpretations of it by the Supreme Court, statutes made to carry out the provisions, and the state constitutions to the extent to which they cover phases which the federal constitution does not. In addition, there is a body of constitutional custom which regulates some governmental machinery altho less extensively than in Great Britain. The leading principle of constitutional law of the United States is the fact that governmental acts in contravention to the Constitution are void. The Supreme Court ultimately passes on the constitutionality of acts under the federal constitution, and the highest court of a state passes on acts under the state constitution. The constitutional law of the United States, because of the rigid amendment clause, is largely modified by decisions of the Supreme Court. It has ruled that personal liberty could be invaded for the benefit of the state without going counter to the "due process of law," but that liberty of contract can not be impaired in private business, thereby marking the field of federal social legislation.

CIRCUS SEASON

"His feet hurry along to school,
But his thoughts
Are glued to the poster
Of Mazie,
The equestrienne queen,
Plastered on Rafferty's barn."

Spring may mean a new Easter hat or suit to you, Mr. Grown-Up, but to the small boy it means just one thing—the circus.

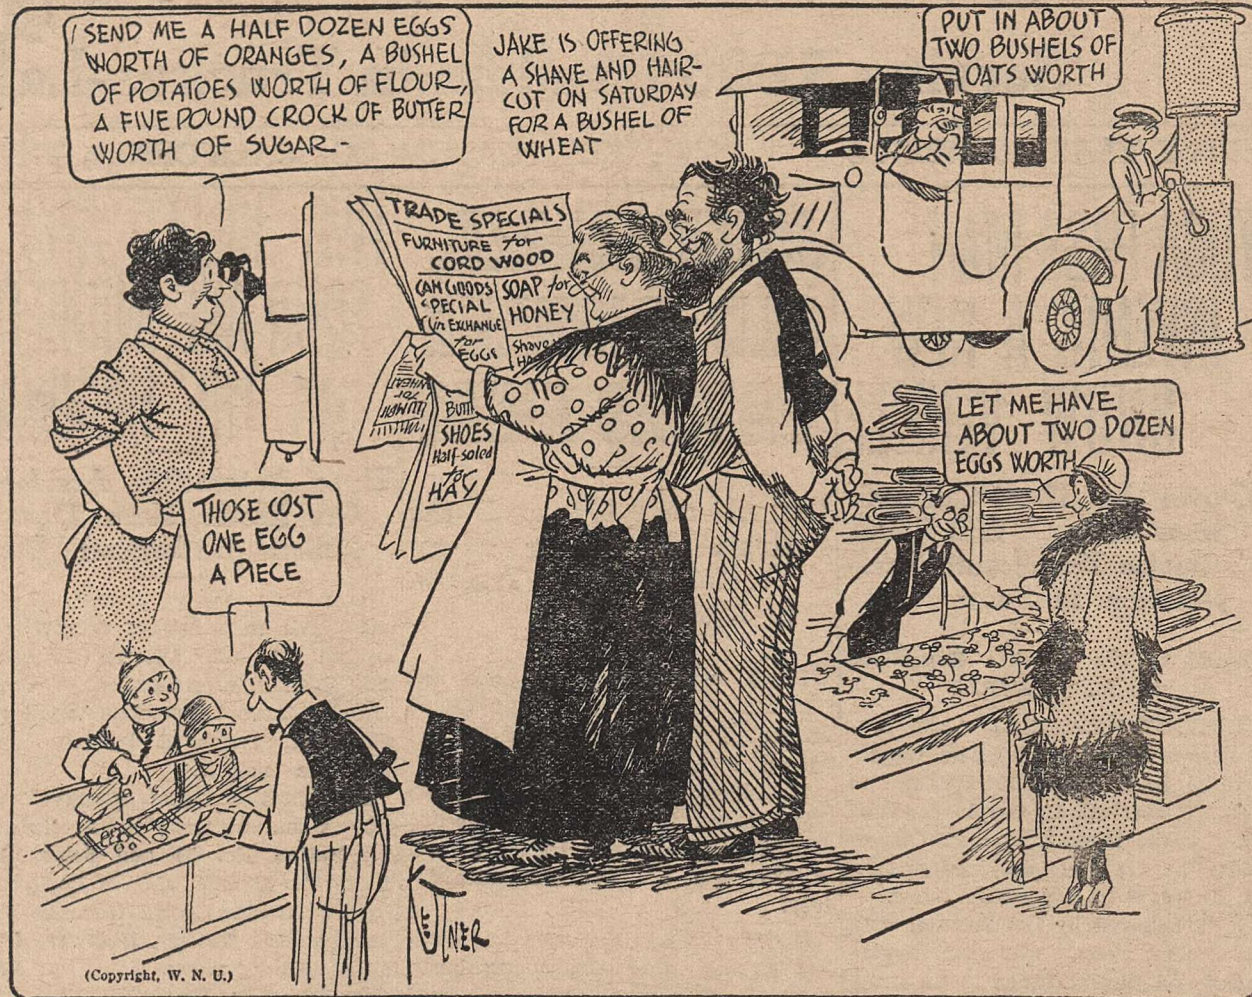

The Circus!—What memories it brings back of childhood: the blare of the callopie—the slow moving elephants and camels—pink lemonade and peanuts—the glaring, glittering side-show posters, and the ballyhoo barker in front shouting—"Step this way ladies and gents and see Bozo; he's a wonder, etc."

Remember how you used to get up at the first streak of dawn and race for the railroad station to see the circus come in? The long train of yellow cars; the circus wagons all covered up with canvas. Five minutes after the train stopped things began to happen. Circus roustabouts crawled out from under the circus wagons and blinked their sleepy eyes, and got into action. Soon the driveways were full of snorting horses, elephants, camels, ponies, cages of bears, lions, tigers, trick dogs, leopards, a big hippopotamus and a rhinoceros. Then there were red and gold parade wagons, clown wagons, chariots and whatnot. Remember how you pressed around the sleeping cars to catch a glimpse of the beautiful blonde trapeze lady artist you had seen on the highly colored circus posters? Remember how elated and puffed up you were when one of the checkered suit circus gents stepped up to you and inquired directions to the post office? Remember how swelled up with pride you became when a circus man hollered out—"Hey Sonny—hold this horse a minute." How reluctantly you finally went home to your breakfast.

Later on came the parade. Remember how you had a prickly sensation run up and down your spine when the cowboy band played at it passed by? How you envied those cowboys. Then came the circus performers on horseback, all dressed up in colorful attire. Did your heart beat fast when one of the circus ladies smiled down upon you?—and how! Then down the street in the distance came the music of the callopie. You stood there on the curb of the street eagerly taking it all in. A clown comes along and throws a kiss to a little girl standing near by, and did her face turn scarlet?

Circus days! Wonderful days of childhood!

POLITICAL PARADE

By Homer L. Roberts
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican

DEMOCRATS. Issues are being made in the present legislative session that you will hear much about in the race for governor in 1934.

There's the oil question, for example. John B. Elliott, who will probably carry the Democratic banner for governor, represented independent producers at the oil conference of President Roosevelt.

Some legislators claimed Governor Homer Roberts' representative was favorable to the major producers.

Rolph stood with the majors in the Sharkey oil bill fight at the last general election, and there's little doubt this will be a campaign issue in the gubernatorial contest.

MONROE. The name of Henry E. Monroe of San Francisco, Democratic leader has been much discussed hereabouts lately as a possible candidate for governor.

His chief backers are Northern California Democrats, who realize the cry in the south for a man in the governor's chair.

BEER. Whenever old timers foregather in the state capitol these days, eventually talk turns to "The Well."

Twenty years ago "The Well" was situated in the basement of the capitol. It was a favorite place to which lawmakers could retire between dry debates in senate or assembly, for a growler of beer and a handful of pretzels.

"The Well" was dried up in 1911 by order of the late Secretary of State Charles F. Curry.

VICTOR. Rheba Crawford Spilva, formerly, comely director of social welfare, won her fight against J. H. Jameson.

Jameson was made assistant to R. C. Brainin, emergency relief director. Mrs. Spilva accused Jameson of being a chronic trouble maker, and said he was responsible for the heavy budget slashes in her department.

So Governor Rolph ordered Jameson to give up his job and go back from whence he came—to the department of finance.

FOOLED 'EM. Tallant Tubbs, former state senator, was in Havana, Cuba the other day. Customs officers halted him because he tried to take in a portable typewriter.

"Then I remembered I had one of Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan's passports," he said. "It is a gaudy document with big gold seals, colored printing and blue and yellow ribbons."

That passport did the trick. The officials, unable to read it, soon were bowing, scraping and apologizing. Tallant walked in with his portable.

SNAPSHOTS. John P. Plover, Santa Rosa, is being boosted for the superintendency of Whittier State School. . . Plover knows boys.

A LOST "ART"

Editorial in MOUNTAIN MESSENGER
Downieville, Calif.

It might with some aptness be called that—the passing of the old time courtesy of the road. Years ago when motor vehicles were less common there was a very pronounced "courtesy of the road." If an autoist or a motorcyclist was seen tinkering with his machine alongside the road, few drivers passed without inquiring if they could be of aid. There was a distinct feeling of fraternalism between motorists, and it was good to see.

Present day congestive conditions do not make such a display of fraternal solicitude practical in the cities, but in the mountain districts, particularly, where we go along pretty much in the same old way, a better spirit could and should be shown by motorists toward one another.

These thoughts were prompted by an incident which occurred on the highway one evening last week. We had reached a point between Camp-tonville and Wilson's log cabin when it was discovered a front tire was nearly flat. Pulling off to the side of the road, the task of making a tire change was begun in the dusk.

A big, expensive car swung around the turn in the sinuous road and pulled up gently to a stop. All indications pointed toward a wealthy party of visitors from the city. A splendid type of well dressed college man inquired if we were in trouble and if he could be of assistance.

It was an unusual experience for these times and brought back with a rush that old time and forgotten "courtesy of the road."

VESPER

Against the foothills' purpling drop
The village sprawls with sleepy eyes
While sunset torches, flaring high Kindle the reaches of the skies.

From laureled heights a wether-bell
Is tinkling through the golden haze
And distant mountains bare their heads
In snowy silence that is praise.

ANALOGY

Of living things,
A bird, it seems,
Comes nearest
To a poet's dreams—
Going the ways
Of life on wing
With heart-outpouring
Songs to sing.

Capitol News Letter

(California Press Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20—(CPS)—The problem of taxation has brought the state legislature to a critical stage.

Lacking $50,000,000 before the biennial budget can be balanced, even with the drastic cuts proposed by the assembly, the lawmakers are admittedly "up a stump" when it comes to devising new sources of revenue.

Governor Rolph has indicated he may veto the budget in its present form because of criticisms that it would cripple some essential state services.

The governor may recommend diversion of the state's gasoline tax revenue unless other means can be found.

SALES TAX. Backed by William Randolph Hearst, newspaper publisher, a new tax plan was offered by Assemblyman B. J. Feigenbaum of San Francisco.

It is a consumers' sales tax of 2 per cent on gross sales of retailers. Unlike the transactions or gross income tax proposed in the Riley-Stewart plan, the Feigenbaum tax could not be pyramided, as it is collected directly from retailers.

Any article, such as a loaf of bread or a pint of milk, which sells for less than 10 cents, would be tax-free.

RACING. Legalized gambling at horse races under the parimutuel system, was adopted by both houses of the legislature and sent to the governor for signature.

It is estimated the bill will raise $1,500,000 a year in tax revenue. Under amendments, the first $100,000 goes to the California state fair for support, 4 per cent goes to the state, and the remainder to county for district fairs.

MORATORIUM. Over the objections of the San Francisco delegation, the assembly gave final passage to the 60 day tax moratorium for the payment of second installment taxes due April 20.

The relief measure for taxpayers was voted after it was pointed out the legislature had already granted moratoriums to banks, building and loan companies, and insurance companies.

The moratorium includes taxes of every kind, state, city, county and district.

RELIEF. Irrigation districts won over bond houses when Governor Rolph agreed to sign a bill by Assemblyman C. Ray Robinson, Merced, providing relief for delinquent districts.

The bill makes it possible for a district, when it becomes 20 per cent delinquent, to be taken over by the California District Securities Commission.

Former Governor James N. Gillett opposed the measure.

SALARIES. A bitter fight is brewing over the bills calling for salary reductions for all state employees on a "graduated percentage scale." These measures would accomplish a 20 per cent reduction, or approximately $15,000,000 in the state payroll per biennium.

They also provide no overtime to be paid employees, and that an enforced vacation of 15 working days a year for the next two years be taken, which would account for $3,500,000 of the saving.

THE LAZY RAIN

Flickering of incessant rain
On flashing pavements:
Sudden scurry of umbrellas:
Bending, recurved blossoms of the storm.

The winds came clanging and clattering
From long white highroads whipping in ribbons up summits:
They strewn upon the city gusty
wafts of apple-blossom,
And the rustling of innumerable translucent leaves.

Uneven tinkling, the lazy rain
Dripping from the eaves.

loving thought.

Here I am reminded that Bunyan led the way long ago with his lovely names for lovely places. And longer ago still, do we not read—and do not our hearts thrill in response to the beauty of the sound—of the "Gate which is called Beautiful" and of the "Street which is called Straight?"

in winter than in summer.

Rural mail routes in the mountains could be maintained with no difficulty, for just as the river boats in the early days used to take the shortest course across the low delta lands to Stockton during flood season instead of following the river channel, so the "snow goose" would take the shortest route across the snow-covered landscape to its destination.

The new invention will be equipped with an automobile engine and its power governed by the size of engine installed, just as automobiles are regulated. A "snow goose" equipped with an eight-cylinder engine would be more expensive and also more powerful than a six-cylinder one.

The possibilities of the new invention are practically unlimited some of which are as follows: It may be successfully operated on swampy and boggy land where tractors could not be used. It could be used on the desert with just as good results as in the snow. By making some minor alterations it could be made amphibian and could cross rivers and lakes without any difficulty. It could be used to splendid advantage on rivers which are too shallow for navigation, for when a rattle or sandbar was encountered the "snow goose," which has now become a "mudhen" would calmly walk across the bar or rattle and again plunge into the water, paddling its way up or down stream, as the case might be. By the same token it could be used as a surf boat with even greater success than the present surf boat which when sent ashore on the crest of a breaker stops as soon as it strikes the beach and waits for the next wave to carry it higher up and out of harm's way. The new invention would, however, propel itself up the beach as soon as deposited by the waves.

It all sounds like a Frank Merriwell dime novel, doesn't it? And yet the inventor of this wonderful vehicle makes these claims for it in all sincerity. He says this latest brainchild is not a chimerical product, but a wholly practical one which he will soon prove to the entire satisfaction of any doubting Thomases who might be skeptical of the claims made for his invention.

It is planned to have the main portion or body of the vehicle manufactured by a large eastern concern, with assembly plants established in various parts of the country, the first of which will be in one of the bay cities. The man-

UNEMPLOYED WOMEN WANT 'NEW DEAL' TOO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20—(CPS)—When is the "new deal" going to start for unemployed women?

This question is asked by state industrial welfare officials as the recruiting of young men, 18 to 28, for work in President Roosevelt's reforestation program, began in the state.

Lower standards of living for women workers have been one result of unemployment during the last year, a study of 109 women workers disclosed.

Only 10 of the 109 were employed for the whole year. The report showed that of 79 women workers who had been out of jobs, 41 per cent reported a lowering of food standards, 49 per cent of clothing standards, 58 per cent of housing standards, and 61 per cent of medical care standards.

Half of the women checked were employed in some branch of the clothing industry. Others were distributed among manufacturing, packing, trade, transportation, clerical work and domestic service.

Manufacture of the new vehicle, which will cost less than $1000, will afford employment to a large number of people.

A working model will be constructed immediately, Mr. Carvin said, to be placed on exhibition at the Chicago World's Fair.

Mr. Carvin invented a snow plow a couple of years ago which was far superior to anything of the kind that has yet been conceived, but owing to lack of capital and the fact that there were a large number of other plows coming onto the market, although not nearly so efficient as the Carvin snow plow, attempts to get it manufactured and placed on the market were finally abandoned.

DOE DEER GRABS RIDE; IS KILLED IN ATTEMPT

ATASCADERO, Cal., April 20—(CPS)—Tired of racing down the hard highway, a big doe deer tried to "grab a ride" in an automobile, and was killed in the attempt.

The car belonged to Henry G. Batterford, who, with his sister-in-law, Flora A. Desfke, received cuts from glass broken when the deer plunged into the car.

The venison went to the county hospital as meat for the patients.

INFANT DEATHS SHOW DECREASE FOR LAST YEAR

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(California Press Service Writer)

Special to The Truckee Republican
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20—
(CPS)—There were 5 infant deaths in Nevada county in 1932 as compared with 8 such deaths in 1931, according to figures just announced by the state board of health in Sacramento.

This gives the county a mortality rate of 36.5 deaths per 1,000 births. The state of California as a whole continued to be the very best place in the world for babies to be born, the report showed.

The entire state recorded only 4,125 infant deaths in 1932, as compared with 4,609 in 1931, while the state's mortality rate of 52.8 is one of the best in the world, and represents a decrease over the 1931 figure of 56.5.

Many counties throughout the state had lower infant mortality rates than did the state as a whole. Among the counties which had especially low rates were:

San Luis Obispo	42.6
Butte	42.0
Marin	41.0
Alameda	38.4
Siskiyou	38.0
Nevada	36.5
Amador	26.8
El Dorado	24.7
Glenn	19.1

"Lower infant mortality rates prevailed last year among all races except Indian, Chinese and Japanese," the state report said. "The rate for white infants fell from 41.8 in 1931 to 40.0 in 1932. The rate

"Probation after Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, April 23, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text will be: "He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved" (Matthew 24:13). Other Bible citations will include: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord" (1 Cor. 15:58).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The sin and error which possess us at the instant of death do not cease at that moment, but endure until the death of these errors. To be wholly spiritual, man must be sinless, and he becomes thus only when he reaches perfection" (p. 290).

for negro infants decreased from 74.2 to 58.6 in the same period. Among Mexicans the decrease was from 128.1 to 118.9."

Lest it be assumed, however, that the Mexican infant death rate, which has always had the effect of raising the entire rate in California, was due to better health and sanitary conditions among the race, the board explained the situation thus: "The Mexican decreased rate was undoubtedly influenced by the extensive migration of Mexicans to their mother country."

SECRETARY OF STATE TELLS SUPREME COURT TO 'GO JUMP IN LAKE'

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20—
(CPS)—In effect, Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan is going to tell the California supreme court to "go jump in the lake."

How he will get away with it depends upon whether the court cites him for contempt, in refusing to obey its orders. Jordan refused to accept corporation papers from a non-profit corporation until it paid a fee.

Until this year such corporations were exempt from the fee. An emergency act of the present legislature fixed the charges, however. Jordan collected from the corporation mentioned.

As a result, he has been ordered to appear before the court here May 2 and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

20,000 ACRES OF RICE PLANTED BY AIRPLANE

WOODLAND, Cal., April 20—
(CPS)—Local aviators are polishing up their airplanes, for it's rice planting time in Yolo county.

Two airplanes will be used in sowing approximately 20,000 acres of land in the Sutter basin area.

Use of the airplane for this purpose is no longer an experiment and has proved to be fast and effective.

Sea-Going Ferry to Cruise Pacific

The ferryboat Multnomah, above, is about to thrust its blunt prow into the Pacific Ocean for the longest haul ever made by a ferry—from Portland, Ore., to Honolulu. John A. Young, left, island tug owner, has purchased the craft for use in Hawaiian water traffic and will supervise the long tow. The Multnomah ferried the Willamette river at Portland for years.

Use Electricity Safely Protect Your Home and Family

A FEW SIMPLE RULES

1. If a fuse blows out, you are either overloading your wiring system, or you have a defective appliance connected to your outlets. The trouble is not corrected by increasing the size of the fuse, which is the electrical safety valve. Use not larger than 15 amp. fuses for your house circuits. Never place a metal washer or coin behind the fuses, thereby eliminating all chance of fuse protection.
2. Have all appliance cords repaired or replaced when they become worn or frayed.
3. Have all your electrical wiring done properly with the right material by experienced electricians.
4. Wires must not be tacked to walls or baseboards with staples. Connected extension cords hung on nails very often cause serious fires since the weight of the cord, after a time, pressing the insulation away from the wires, causes a short circuit.
5. Brass-shell sockets in bath rooms and on concrete floors in basements often cause serious injury from electrical shocks.
6. Do not move or handle electrical appliances, such as heaters, violet rays, curling irons or washing machines while your body is in contact with water piping or grounded metal.
7. Always keep electrical heating devices away from combustible materials. Provide an approved metal stand for the iron and use it, whether the current is on or off.
8. Do not leave small children in charge of portable heating devices that are in operation. They may turn them over on your newspapers, curtains or rugs with serious consequences.
9. Lights in clothes closets should never be left burning when the door is closed. The light socket must be well isolated from all inflammable material.
10. Never use irons, toasters or other similar heating devices to warm the bed. There are numerous approved electric heating devices for this purpose.
11. Keep cords to portable lamps in view and away from rockers and the like. You encourage trouble when they are placed under the rugs. If the standard length cord that comes with your device does not reach your present convenient outlet, you need another properly wired outlet, placed where you can easily and safely plug in the cord.
12. Never use gasoline in an electric washing machine.

tion on the part of the Southern Pacific Company is the absolutely unforgivable and unforgettable spirit and manner in which this road has been closed. It would seem that the local Chamber of Commerce or leading business men in the community should have been approached and their approval secured before any such move was made. It would certainly seem that the local townspeople were entitled to some consideration when it comes to closing up a county road which has been in use for over eighty years.

A vigorous complaint has been filed with the president of the Southern Pacific Company in regard to the manner in which the road has been closed, and an investigation asked for.

RATS AND RODENTS
SAFE NEXT 2 YEARS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20—(CPS)—The state of California has declared a moratorium on rats.

That is, the moratorium was agreed upon by the state legislature. The rats weren't consulted in the matter.

For the next two years at least rats, squirrels, gophers and other rodents that work havoc with vegetables and garden life, are expected to suspend all operations.

The reason for this is that the budget for the state department of agriculture will not include funds for the customary rodent control.

On the other hand, the state board of health has adopted a resolution recommending that all health departments and city officials adopt ordinances requiring the rat-proofing of buildings erected in the future.

This was done to prevent the spread of epidemics such as the bubonic plague, in which rats play an important part as carriers.

JOAN CRAWFORD APPEARS HERE IN
'RAIN' SUNDAY

If there remain any skeptics who doubt that Joan Crawford should be placed at the very forefront of Hollywood's leading dramatic actresses those skeptics should not fail to include "Rain," the United Artists picture to be shown at the Donner Theatre Sunday night, in their entertainment budgets. For here is a characterization to win the hearts of even the most skeptical.

The startling feature is that the role of Sadie Thompson is an entirely new departure for Miss Crawford. Never before in her great gallery of portrayals has she essayed one like it, and yet there is probably no actress in Hollywood—or on the stage either, for that matter—who could approximate the artistry she displays.
